Photography in the Finnish autumn – Ospreys and Brown Bears are preparing for winter

This tour takes place near Russian border in Finland and combines Osprey and Brown Bear photography. August is a very attractive time for both species since both are preparing for winter: Ospreys for their long migration to Africa and Brown Bears for their hibernation over winter. The young Ospreys learn to fish on their own and the adult birds start stocking food for their long journey over continents, and this provides an average of 15-30 strikes per day, at a distance of only 5-30 metres. Other possible species from the hides: White-tailed Eagle, Lesser Black-backed Gull, Black-headed Gull, Herring Gull, Raven, Short-eared Owl.

Brown Bears visit the feeding site actively in August and at times have their cubs with them as well. Bears prepare for winter and fatten themselves to survive until next spring. Several White-tailed Eagles visit the feeding site as well and offer photo opportunities while flying in front of the hides. Night in a Brown Bear hide is definitely an experience that you will not forget!

ITINERARY

Day 1 Arrival to Kuusamo

Arrival to Kuusamo in the afternoon. Pickup from the airport and transportation to the accommodation. After early dinner, drive to professional Osprey photography hides where we photograph fishing Ospreys until sunset.

The local fish farm where our hides are located was established in the late 1960's and Ospreys have visited ever since. Fish ponds provide easy source of food for Ospreys which is essential to successfully raise their young. Due to the long history of the site, the Ospreys have gotten used to people working here. Therefore it is possible to change hides even in the middle of the session to get different shooting angles or light on the birds.

Day 2

Start early in the morning at 4.00 and drive to the Osprey pro-hides for morning light and action. Return to accommodation for late breakfast between 9.00-10.00.

After breakfast, it is time for a well-earned rest and to download images. After early dinner at 16.00, we head to professional Brown Bear hides for evening session until sunset. We stay in the hides overnight so we are ready in the hides for morning action. The night gets dark in the middle of the night and you can sleep for 4-5 hours.
